LONDON – 23rd November 2015 – ACF Equity Research has become the first independent equity research provider to be selected to join ISDX’s issuer services research list

<http://www.isdx.com/members-partners/issuer-services/> . ISDX www.isdx.com described ACF as a specialist small and mid-cap equity research provider. ACF believes its selection was based upon its best-in-class equity research product, strong value offering, global distribution and market impact.

“ACF Equity Research is delighted to have been chosen as a recognised specialist small and mid-cap research provider by the ISDX Recognised Investment Exchange,” said Christopher Nicholson, Managing Director, ACF. “In today's capital markets environment, it's vital that smaller and mid cap companies are able to access the same quality research services as large caps. Our research and consultancy supports greater liquidity, higher valuations and access to a wider pool of professional investors, delivering clear value unbundled from broking and corporate finance services for corporates and professional investors alike. ISDX has shown again that it is forward thinking and innovative”.

Investors value third-party research because it provides a differentiated independent view and fills the damaging research void into which corporates are increasingly plunged. Without equity and debt research investors are unable to make investment decisions.
